CITAM EMBAKASI MENTORSHIP

ESSAY ON THE MENTORSHIP

Hello my name is Evans Baraka. I am in form three, studying at The Machakos School. I love drawing . I attended the three day seminar in Citam Embakasi and went for the UN tour on Friday. The mentorship program was great because I was able to build my self confidence. Starting from the very first day where we were taught on grooming by David, I was able to change my attire to a smart and serious attire. The critical thinking games taught me on various ways to think on how to solve problems in my day to day life. The word from Captain Mbandu taught me that there is nothing you can do without building on Christ. The session with Captain Samson built me a lot in the world of Aviation. Eric Fairweather taught me a lot on study techniques for academic excellence. It had a very great impact on how I get to plan my days in school and also at home. Kiilu taught me something very important that was understanding myself and also the elevator pitch and profile writing. Evans was able to learn some things on Single Party Negotiation by Dr. Weche. I was also able to learn about law as a career. About the application to the US Universities, I can say it was a good thing because it opened my mind to the outside world and stopped thinking of Kenya alone. About the public speaking session with Christie and Eric it was good because I got a chance in the UN tour to explain a picture showing human rights confidently.

I would like to thank the AKAD team for inspiring many lives, mentoring us and opening our eyes to accept our lives. Thank you for the mentorship, the tasty food and for giving us a chance to be a part of you. I believe that what you instilled in me will make a better me in the future.
