I take every day as an opportunity to meet new people and learn new things from my various mentors in life and everyone .On the event that took place at the Bidco grounds in Thika I learnt a lot. From the event organizer himself Reverend Dr Weche I got to know of how I had resources at the palm of my hands and I was misusing it. From this I will invest my time on my contacts who are also my mentors. This are the likes of Josphat Lowoi and Earnest Omondi who happened to participate in the joining of an international program by Christie Weche which sponsors students around the world as they participate in the Leangap program which invites teenagers to Boston and San Francisco where they embark on an intense five week journey to build real scalable companies

It is through the friends one surrounds himself with in this world that one succeeds .It is also evident in this world that change is the only constant thing ,one cannot recover time already lost but one can utilize the time he/she has left .I learnt that like entrepreneurship is the most rewarding field to venture in .The unemployment rate in this world is increasing very highly and the people who can reduce this rate are entrepreneurs .From the second speaker of the day I learnt on the importance of how you treat people and how one talks to people .One can easily get around this world by the way you approach people, how you talk to them and how you look at them .

the most appropriate way to talk to someone is by straight eye contact, this not only shows you are concentrating but also shows that you have interest in the message being conveyed .depression is a factor that hinders development among many people .From the knowledge I have from this I will try as much to avoid depression causing factors like stress and heartbreaks .I also got to know about the transparency of a person , this is the outward message you communicate to people this is by your eyes and your body posture .Again this is another important factor of communication .From this I will concentrate on being more of an upright seater and walk with confidence

I happened to have a one on one session with the now chairman of Bidco Mr. Vimal Shah I got to know the important aspect of time and utilizing your every minute and second .it was during the lunch break hour when I approached him and instead of stop eating and answering my questions he ,did both as he did not want any time wasted ,this is one of the key facts to rising a steady business and its success .I also acknowledged that entrepreneurship and IT is one of the best courses to follow since the current world is changing to a technological world .From the character traits of Dr Vimal Shah I will now always push hard at everything I do , getting rejected is just a chance to always do the task at hand again but correcting where I went wrong and if it does not work there is always another way into the same situation .I will also concentrate on goals I have set up for myself as goals will always keep me busy and uncomfortable .

This I learnt from Dr Vimal Shah as he stated that it was his job to keep the workers uncomfortable to constantly produce good results at work. From Mr. T.R.M I got to know of the importance of religion .From him I will put my faith in my works through my religion as having a common supreme being will always push you even in the hard times .I will also focus on taking risks as an entrepreneur always dives into the sea for him to thrive and even if it goes the other way one always learns from his past and does better the next time .I got to know on the importance of branding and what you would like to communicate out to people ,this is from Boniface Omina .I know will guard my reputation with my life and always leave a positive mark where ever I go .
