PROFILE

Marvin Osolo is a young student currently on his gap year. An alumnus of Lenana School, Josnah Academy and Hospital Hill Primary. Marvin spent his earlier years at Hospital Hill competitively swimming but never got the chance to represent his country internationally. He sat for his Kenya Certificate of Primary Education in 2012 where he attained 397 marks and was offered a place at Lenana School.

Marvin joined Lenana School in 2013, where in his first year of secondary school was among the founding members of the student initiative The Laibon Dream Walk, a walk aimed at raising school fees for needy students to help. The walk takes place bi-annually and the two walks have been successes. Marvin has also been an active member of clubs and societies. He played the role of Chief Market Researcher in the Junior Achievers Club and produced the song that won the Students Campaign Against Drug Abuse 2016 competitions 'All Day.' Marvin also was part of the team that revived the school band in Lenana School in 2015 and participated in the Kenya Music Festivals and finished third. This has opened doors for him and he plays the tuba with Nairobi Conservatoire orchestra.

Marvin has also been active in student leadership in Lenana School. He was voted in as a class representative in the year 2015 but refused to run for the position the following year to focus on his academics. He sat for his Kenya Certificate of Secondary Education and attained grade B-.

Marvin joined AKAD educational group as a mentee in 2017 and he spends his time producing music and playing music. He writes poetry, short stories and admires Architecture. He wishes to go study Sound Engineering at Vanderbilt University. In working towards his goal he watches tutorials online in order to sharpen the quality of his producing skills. He hopes to create a path so that the people with similar dreams do not go through the hardship he is going through.
